Roots rockers, happy hippies, folk freaks and blues junkies of all ages can gather to listen as one to the sound of Steven Bates acoustic music every Sunday evening at The Heritage House in Little River, California.

Mendocino County native, Steven Bates is no stranger to the vibrant music scene along the Northern coast of California. His music takes you by the hand and leads you smiling and grateful to the dance floor. Like the sun finally coming out after weeks of cold, gray weather, you bask in the warmth of true, original music which you hadn't even realized you'd been longing for.

His vibe is warm and inviting. It makes you want to reach out to a stranger. It has something to say, but it's not preachy. It makes you grin at the person next to you, bobbing his head in time with your own. Bates grew up listening to The Beatles, Dylan, The Dead, The Doors and Hendrix; you can hear the influence of classic rock, folk and blues mixing expertly with meaningful lyrics and astounding guitar licks.

Some Bates songs grab you by the throat, others by the heart. But their naked honesty is what will make the hair on the back of your neck stand up. His lyrics make images pop in front of your mind's eye; the intense guitar strumming matching the feelings of those colorful images.

Steven Bates music: it's just what the doctor ordered.
